At the Magistrate's yesterday before Mr. T.
Serravallo Smith, Chen Pe, a house boy at Murray Barracks, was charged with being a rogue and vagabond and with being found in the room at Murray Barracks occupied by Captain C. B. Barron, of the Royal Welsh Fusiliers.
Trot Chan, boy to Captain McMahon, who lives at Murray Barracks, said:—At half-past eight on Tuesday night I went upstairs to my room and, seeing defendant coming out, I asked him why he had been in. He did not say anything but ran away. I followed and again asked him why he had been in and he replied, "I went to get a key." I took him down to the sergeant. Captain McMahon was at the time.
Defendant said:—I was sent to the officers' mess yesterday afternoon. He was never Captain McMahon's servant. He was never allowed to go to the mess. He was sent to the mess by Major Foulkes, said:—Defendant was a general cook in the mess. No part of his duties took him into the officers' mess. He was sent to the mess to leave, and was to go to the barracks to-day. At half-past eight last night I heard a noise. I went out of the mess room to see what it was, and made the boy in the officers' mess, Chan Shui, a witness in the charge of defendant. Chan Shui, a Fuziliers, said:—I am boy to Captain Barron.
At half-past eight last night I went upstairs my master's room on the floor of the verandah and found a man on the floor. The man was 40 years in ten feet pieces. The man was my master's. My master's room was next to Captain McMahon's. Defendant was broken and stair to get a mess. I had placed it in the bathroom. The last witness said I stole the gold chain, but no chain was found. He was sentenced to three months' hard labour.

went to get a key." I took him down to the
sergeant. Captain McMahon was at the time.
Defendant said:—I was sent to the officers' mess
yesterday afternoon. He was never Captain
go to the mess. He was sent to the mess by
boy in the officers' mess, Chan Shui, a witness
in the charge of defendant. Chan Shui, a Fuziliers, said:—I am boy to Captain Barron.
At half-past eight last night I went upstairs
my master's. My master's room was next to
